PEOPLE MANAGEMENT evolution

SUMMIT, 25_26_27 May 2017

WHY?

We are all experiencing that we are living in a time of transition... we are hitting the limits of organizational structures, hierarchies and the way of working. This time calls for new approaches and for collective leadership. In this international summit with participants who want to learn and co-create the future of People Management our leading questions will be:

- _ What will be the future of Organizations and what does that mean for the future of People Management?
- _ How can we make a positive impact on people's work that leads to the sustainable wellbeing of all stakeholders?
- _ What is truly needed and what is my personal contribution? How can I stretch my limits and experiment with new ideas as being part of an international community?

HOW?

Our international Team of Facilitators co-designed this two and a half day summit based on their own experience as HR Executives as well as the latest insights of People Management and Social Transformation Models like Theory U, Art of Hosting and Action Inquiry. Participants learn about future organizational trends and the impact on People Management.

Together we'll have a look on People Management from different perspectives (personal, organizational, systemic) and how to bridge them. In an international community of experienced facilitators and practitioners we co-work on practical case studies & share day to day experiences. Participants learn from each other through storytelling & peer coaching and develop concrete ideas through prototyping.

TO WHOM?

Executives, HR Managers, Leaders, Consultants and everyone who is passionate about people and wants to learn & share experiences and to co-create the future of People Management.
